

THE CENTRAL RECORD.

THIRTY FIRST YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 20, 1921.

NUMBER 496

TOBACCO

ROLLING IN. Market Opened Good Last Monday For Good Grades.

Every street and alley, to say nothing of the barns and sheds, within and without the limits of the city are literally lined with loaded wagons of tobacco, waiting for their turn. When a wagon drives up to a warehouse, the owner or driver is given a number, these numbers running serially and each driver knows that he must wait until his number is called before he can be given space for unloading.

The market opened at the Garrard house last Monday, when a good sale was had, the price for the better grades apparently had sprung several cents since the closing sale last week. Tuesday, however, the market seemed to have dropped back a little, although some good averages were made on this day at the Planters and Growers house.

There are absolutely no buyers for these inferior grades and why the growers will continue to bring these grades into the market, has been a puzzle to the warehousemen. The price given doesn't justify the growers to load and haul these grades to town, to say nothing of the expense of floor charges and the previous expense of stripping.

GEORGE MARTIN

Gets 10 Years Sentence Stole $260,000.00.

George L. Martin, the Louisville embezzler, was sentenced to serve ten years in the State penitentiary upon the plea of guilty of altering the books of a corporation. The Commonwealth's Attorney recommended that Martin be given eight years, but the jury saw otherwise and gave him the full limit on three charges.

Ten years for stealing $260,000 lets Mr. Martin off very light. At that he gets $26,000 a year and even if he has to pay it in hard labor it's not a bad salary.

Teachers Examination.

There will be an examination next week for Common School diplomas and all teachers who expect to take this examination should confer with Miss Jennie Higgins at once.

Death Of Mrs. Morris.

Relatives and friends here of Mrs. Lou Hoskins Morris were shocked to learn of the death, which occurred at Birmingham, Ala., January 13th.

Mrs. Morris was the daughter of the late Col. A. W. Hoskins, formerly of this city, and was reared here. She united with the First Presbyterian church when a child and possessed a very useful and lovable character. She leaves many friends here who deplore her death. Interment took place at Chattanooga, Tenn. (Danville Advocate.)

Morris.

To those who met her while here, the passing away, on January 13th, of Mrs. Lou Hoskins Morris has caused regret; to those of the inner circle, it brings deep sorrow.

Quiet and unobtrusive in her manner, she won her way into the hearts of those who knew her and her zeal and reverence for the highest ideals of the soul, is worthy of emulation of others.

She lived a life of service to her God, her home, her country, and her friends, giving out of the abundance of a consecrated heart, loyalty and love, and it returned to her doubly blessing and enriching her life.

In a recent visit to her girlhood home, the renewing of old friendships brought her great joy. May we not fancy a still greater joy of a greater reunion in her Father's house in the Celestial City.

When the summons came, there was no hasty preparation for the last voyage—as she had lived her life bravely and uncomplainingly she accepted the sealed orders from on high, and placing her hand in that of the Great Pilot, her frail bark left its moorings and slipped into the sea.

"To other shores we know not where, And tho' we question, naught avails, We only know a haven there Awaits her as from us she sails."

Baughman.

Mr. John K. Baughman, of Hustonville, and one of the most prominent farmers in that section of the county, died at his home last Monday after an illness of six weeks of paralysis. He was a brother of Mr. S. H. Baughman of Stanford. He leaves many friends in Garrard who will learn of his demise with regret. His remains were buried in the Stanford cemetery Wednesday morning.

Kennedy

The family nor her friends anticipated the death of Mrs. Jennie Kennedy, when she passed away at the home of her son, Mr. M. O. Kennedy, at Bryantsville, on the morning of January 4th. She had just come a few days previous to make Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy a visit and was apparently in her usual good health, but pneumonia developed rapidly and did its deadly work in just a few days.

Mrs. Kennedy was 81 years of age and had always enjoyed good health previous to her last illness. She was a devout member of the Presbyterian church and when convenient always attended church services.

She was a widow of the late Grover Kennedy and is survived by five boys, all grown, they being John, Ben, Mike, Will and Faulkner and one daughter, Mrs. Jess Mershon, of Corbin, Ky. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. A. Dawes at the home of M. O. Kennedy, interment following in the family lot at Precherville.

GARRARD GIRLS

Take Precautionary Measures Against Crime Wave.

Says Clay Sutton in Louisville Post.

The following from the pen of Clay Sutton appeared in the Louisville Evening Post a few days ago, with a Lancaster date line:

The crime wave over the country is impelling many sedate persons in this and other communities quietly to take defensive measures for the purpose of protecting their lives and property. It is well known that private homes in this city and in the country also are probably better supplied with "artillery" than ever before, and it is an open secret that numerous patrons who never before considered such a thing now go about their daily occupations in a state of preparedness. This in no sense implies any unusual moral laxity in a community of upright and honest citizens; it is purely a protective expedient, tacitly supported by law-abiding sentiment. It is a fact that certain precautionary measures seem to be coming into vogue. For instance, in two or more small villages out in the country a number of young couples, properly chaperoned, even in some instances accompanied by their parents meet regularly three evenings each week at a shooting gallery for revolver and rifle practice, nearly every one present taking part in the diversion. It is fascinating sport, and in addition, cultivates proficiency in an art which is liable to be useful at a time when violence and brigandage are rampant. In this connection reference may be made to a rather embarrassing incident which occurred here, when a well known society girl from out of town decidedly let fall a pearl handled revolver from the pocket of her sealskin coat in a certain dry goods store in town. These social phenomena are considered as suggesting rather a public mental state than a passing fad. Whether the moral tone of a community might not be temporarily depressed by a tendency of this sort should be interesting to a student of sociology; but at present the attitude of the general public toward any slight departure from established usages is that of gentle tolerance.

MANY BIDS

Eliminated For Auctioning Camp Taylor

Many bids have been made by the government for the auctioning of Camp Taylor, among them being two Lancaster firms, Swinebroad, the real estate man and the Victory Realty Company, of which Mr. S. A. Walker is president. The government's refusal to consider the rejected proposals, was that no definite terms were set forth in the bids.

Mr. G. B. Swinebroad went to Washington in person last week and made a flattering proposal, as he thought, and one that the government could not well refuse. The remaining bids will be gone over this week and awards may be made soon.

Lancaster Building

And Loan.

New life has been put into the Lancaster Building and Loan Association by the election of a new set of officers and directors at the regular meeting in January. Mr. Wm. S. Hopper will continue to be the secretary and treasurer, with the office of the Company at the Garrard Bank and Trust Co. The new president is Mr. J. E. Robinson. The members of the association will push the business and it is to be hoped that this will soon be one of the strong financial institutions of the city.

Many of the present substantial home owners of the town were enabled to get the start at home building through the assistance of the Lancaster Building and Loan Co. The plans of this Association are not only to assist by loans to its members but it is the opportunity for a safe account of savings by the payment of weekly installments. This is one of the most useful institutions of the community and is worthy of the generous support of the public.

ADOPT BURLEY

CUTOUT PLEDGE

Delegates Of New Association Lay Plans For Canvass At Lexington Parley.

Lexington, Ky.—A request for growers to withhold the present tobacco crop and announcement of a pledge to effect a cutout for 1921 was the result Monday afternoon of a meeting of delegates of the Burley Tobacco Growers, held at the Lafayette Hotel.

The meeting was called to order at 11 o'clock in the morning by Acting Chairman Frank McKee, Versailles. The original purpose of the meeting was to form a permanent organization, but immediately after convening, it was decided to make it an executive session and all spectators were barred from the hall. At 2 o'clock a recess of one hour was taken and at 4:30 o'clock the members adjourned.

To Draft Constitution.

Another meeting to which every county chairman in the burley districts of Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, is invited, will be held at the Lafayette Hotel Friday morning, January 21. The constitution and by-laws of the association, which will be prepared Thursday morning by a committee appointed by President McKee, will be presented for approval.

The following men compose the committee, which will make the first draft of the constitution: Abe Renick, Clark County; K. Hartke, Kenton; G. A. Brooks, Mason; N. W. Bacon, Neville, Ohio, and C. A. Meek, Carroll County.

Following is the pledge approved by lawyers, which will be circulated over the entire burley district of the States represented, calling for an absolute cutout:

"Whereas, it is desirable to cut out the tobacco crop of 1921, now this form of pledge and all copies thereof, shall be considered as one instrument of writing and one agreement and the undersigned subscriber binds himself to all other subscribers of this form of pledge and each subscriber of this form of pledge that he will not grow or permit to be grown on his land or any land under his control any tobacco in 1921.

Copies To All Counties.

Copies of the pledge will be sent to all counties of the five States concerned in the movement at once, to give the county chairman ample time to distribute them.

The delegates to Monday's meeting strongly recommended to all owners of tobacco crops now on hand that they be withheld from the present low markets. This action was taken at the afternoon session, after the delegates had an opportunity to become acquainted with prevailing prices paid at the local markets.

QUEER FIND.

Pearl Worth $800.00

Found Wedged Between Pig's Toes.

A pure white toe on the muddy foot of a hog attracted the attention of Morris Johnson, a farmer living near Richmond, Ill. Upon closer examination he found that the white object was not a toe but a perfect pearl and that it was lodged between two toes. He sold the pearl for $800.00.

Johnson had been feeding his hogs with mussel meat secured from mussel seekers, who were collecting the bivalves in the Rock river to sell the shells to button manufacturers.

Popularity of fresh water pearls has grown steadily in recent years. Wisconsin claims the honor of being the first State to develop a substantial market for these gems, many of which have a rich lustre and are of delicate shades of pink and white. While Oriental pearls are the finest, the Wisconsin and Illinois fresh water pearls are in big demand.

Seedless Apples.

Mr. Morris Todd, of Paint Lick brought to this office some delightful apples of the seedless variety, which he raised on his place last year. They are of good size, sweet and very palatable with no sign of seed or even a core. He tells us the trees never bloom and consequently are not susceptible to the biting frosts or freezes of early spring. Any "doubting Thomases" can be convinced by calling at this office.

WINNES INDICTED

IN MURDER CASE.

Lexington Veterinarian Released On $10,000 Bond; Trial To Be Jan. 20.

Harlan, Ky.—Charged with the murder and assault September 7, of Miss Lura Parsons, a teacher in the Pine Mountain Settlement School Dr. H. C. Winnes, former state veterinarian, was indicted recently by the Harlan County grand jury. The indictment was the first definite step taken in fixing guilt on any single person, although Jerry Reed, a negro in a convict road camp at the scene of the crime, was held under $5,000 bond to the action of the grand jury. He was not indicted.

Dr. Winnes was in the courtroom when the indictment was returned. His bond was fixed at $10,000 by Circuit Judge W. T. Davis at the request of the Commonwealth Attorney, J. G. Foster. He was released, the bond being signed by George Edward, Harlan County; D. G. Jones and former Judge Hall, his attorneys.

Trial of Dr. Winnes will be started in the Harlan Circuit Court Thursday, January 20, it was announced recently. Both the defense and the prosecution have agreed to try the case immediately and both sides will be ready, attorneys stated.

Will Organize To Hold

Back Crop Of 1920.

Lexington, Ky.—Representatives of twenty-two out of thirty-four counties, in a meeting of delegates of burley counties there recently, voted to organize growers of burley district to promote plan for holding this season's crop and cut out 1921 crop. Former Congressman of the meeting, and T. W. Baisley, Kenton county, secretary. On motion of Harry Harke, Kenton county, a committee of five was named to carry into effect the decision of the meeting. This committee is composed of Abe Renick, Clark; Stanley Reed, Mason; Harry Harke, Kenton; John A. Gano, Scott, and C. O. Hempling, Boone. The committee will also prepare a pledge to submit to growers.

Court Day Monday.

Next Monday will be County Court day in Lancaster and a good crowd will doubtless be on hand, attracted here by the tobacco market which most of the farmers of the county are now interested in.

Tate

The death of Mr. Clarence Tate, at the Pope Sanatorium in Louisville last Thursday, caused deep regret in this county, where he was so well known and liked. No more popular man lived in Lincoln county.

He is survived by two children and his widow, who is a sister of Hon. William Shanks of Stanford. Interment took place in the Stanford cemetery last Saturday afternoon.

The Growth Of Immorality.

(Elizabethtown News)
Dr. Welch, of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church of Louisville, took occasion Sunday to preach a sermon, which was a terrific arraignment of growth of various forms of immorality. The sermon was very timely. All ministers should join in a crusade against the tendency of the age toward a return to barbarism among what has been called the better classes. Gambling, drinking, smoking and the jazz dances among women are the evils complained of. What Dr. Welch spoke about is not confined to Louisville but is more or less prevalent in all cities and many small towns. Women go dances with their bodies nearly bare to the waist line, and with their dresses cut so short that their limbs are seen above their knees, dance too often with half drunken men, to the horrible jazz music. These sort of dances would have shamed Babylon before its fall, and are as immoral as those of Herculaneum and Pompeii, before they were destroyed by God, with the lava from Mt. Vesuvius.
The average woman's costume at a dance is so lacking in the proper amount of clothing that on the streets such dressing would lead to arrests for indecent exposure of person.

A large number of young women are smoking cigarettes and drinking liquor, which used to be exclusively practiced at the Latin Students' ball in Paris and only among the demi-monde and in houses of prostitution in this country. Gambling among high society men and women in Louisville is practiced and according to the Louisville newspapers goes on sometimes for thirty-six hours on a stretch, including Sunday.

Dr. Welch presents a horrible picture of moral degeneracy and one which is fast leading to such turpitude that the tendency is rapidly toward barbarism and the dark ages.

Christianity is the only force that can stop or check these immoral and degenerate practices and the Christian people everywhere should arouse themselves to the evil conditions.

It is not necessary for the ministers to preach against the practices now indulged in, but the Christian people must also sustain the ministers. The churches must purge themselves of those who indulge in the present immoral usages, after they are properly warned. We need the law to stop gambling in all forms, we need dress reform. Dances should be censured with certain dress requirements and young men who over-indulge in liquor should be expelled from the floor and if necessary arrested for drunkenness.

Modesty, purity and virtue must be restored to their pristine status if we would save society from even a lower level than it has fallen, and rescue it from the abyss of certain destruction which is but a little way ahead.

Average Women Walk 2 Miles In Cooking Three Meals.

Montgomery, Ala.—Preparation of meals for an average family means a two-miles daily kitchen marathon for the housewife, statistics compiled for the conference of Vocational Workers of the South, in session here, disclose. A pedometer attached to students in the kitchen of the model home at Livingston School showed this measurement for the stove-sink-and-pantry route covered during the period from bacon and eggs to dinner.

Want to Feel Just Right?

— Take an NR Tonight —

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "tired," headache, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

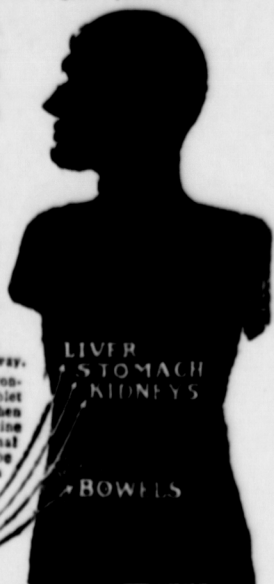

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way. If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet also that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition—keep you feeling your best.

SUPERSTITIONS

Odd Beliefs Found Among People Of Blue Grass State

To keep a person from growing, take three hairs from the back of his neck and three from each temple, make a hole in a Columbia poplar at the person's height, put the hairs in the hole and drive in a peg. This is one of 3,954 superstitions collected in Kentucky by Daniel L. Thomas and Lucy B. Thomas and compiled in a volume called "Kentucky Superstitions." A few of the superstitions are:

If a teakettle boils in a room where there is a little baby, the baby will have colic.

It brings bad luck to count a baby's teeth.

If you find a bird's nest empty, you will never marry. If it has one egg in it, you will marry within one year; if two eggs, two years, etc.

If you give a black cat a piece of pickle and it eats it, the first man the cat goes to you will marry.

To stop nose bleeding, wear around the neck a bullet that has killed something.

If a hog looks toward the north cold weather may be expected.

When sunshine and rain come together, the devil is beating his wife. If you put a black headed pin into the clay and put your ear to the pin head you may hear them.

One will have to pick each stitch out with his nose that he sews on Sunday.

Be Strong

THE strong and vigorous man or woman is envied by less fortunate humanity afflicted with aches, pains, infirmities and ailments. The sufferer says to himself, "If I could only be well, how happy I would be," for health is more essential to the joy of living than is wealth.

The kidneys almost literally wash the blood and keep it clean and free from impurities. When the kidneys are out of order, they fail to filter out the waste and poisonous matter. It remains in the system to cause headache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles and stiff joints.

Foley Kidney Pills

help the system eliminate this poisonous waste. They soothe, strengthen and heal sore, weak and diseased kidneys and bladder. When the kidneys are working properly, appetite returns, refreshing sleep is possible, and health and strength come again.

C. W. Smith, 1205 No. 4th St., Salina, Kas., writes: "I am very much pleased with Foley Kidney Pills. I am working a coal yard and have been very much troubled with my back. I have taken several doses of Foley Kidney Pills and they have already helped me."

POMP AND SPLENDOR
Give Way To Simplicity

Washington.—It has just been announced at the request of President-elect Harding that the Washington Inaugural Committee has just canceled all plans for what promised to be one of the most splendid inaugurations in the history of the country. This means that the far-famed inaugural ball, which was abandoned by President Woodrow Wilson, will not be revived. This is one thing that the people of Washington really want and it comes as a blow to them. Besides dispensing with the ball, other features of the program which in the past have attracted thousands to the nation's capital, will be eliminated also. Weeks of strenuous work by numerous committees will now be undone and approximately $200,000 subscribed by the enthusiastic Washington people toward the inauguration expenses will be returned to the contributors. In the meantime, $50,000 voted by congress for the erection of stands awaits other disposition. At President-elect Harding's suggestion the inaugural ceremonies will consist of the oath of office and address by the new president, which will likely be from the east steps of the capital, and then as President-elect Harding puts it "he will hang up his hat and go to work." Considering the condition that now confronts the country President-elect Harding cannot be too highly commended for his desire to turn from the riot of spending and ostentation and look toward the more simple things of life. This is harking back the right way. His decision is a most wise one and will meet with the hearty approbation of the entire country, save possibly the city of Washington.

WANT TAX

From Lower Grades.

A committee representing burley tobacco interests of Central Kentucky left Lexington for Washington Sunday night where they will be in conference with the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue with Consuls of foreign governments and with officials of the Department of Commerce and Congressmen from Kentucky in regard to proposed amendment of the internal revenue regulations in manufacture of tobacco. The committee was composed of Dr. Samuel H. Halley, leading grower, and John W. Newman, of Versailles, former State Commissioner of Agriculture and president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association.

The committee seeks to have the law so amended that 25 per cent or more of the 1920 crop, classed as low grades, which the manufacturers declare they cannot buy, may be taken over by the farmers co-operatively and converted into fertilizer without payment of the present government tax of 18 cents a pound. They will confer with the Consuls of foreign countries relative to disposing of other parts of the low grades of the tobacco crop for government bonds or for some other suitable exchange.

Frank McKee, of Versailles, president of the Cut-Out Association formed Thursday, has called a conference for Monday of county leaders interested in the organization.

At a meeting of the Franklin Association the former action of the organization cutting out the 1921 crop was reaffirmed with the elimination of the crop for the next ten that the members be left free to dispose of their 1920 crops as they desire.

POULTRY PENS

Mated Now Mean Increased Profits.

One of the things which farmers of Kentucky can do now to increase their returns from poultry later in the season is to mate up a special breeding pen of the 12 best hens on the farm and the best male bird, according to a statement of poultry specialists from the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

The hens should be selected on the basis of size, winter egg production and breed type. If the farm does not contain any male birds suitable for breeding purposes the farmer will profit by stocking his farm at the present time with suitable birds.

Information on how to tell the laying hen and the one which has produced the most winter eggs may be obtained free by writing the poultry department of the College of Agriculture, Lexington.

Lambs Gain Rapidly
When Fed Some Grain

When lambs are about two weeks old they will begin to nibble at hay and grain. As soon as this time arrives a creep should be built so that the young animals can get to a trough and not be molested by the ewes and a small amount of bran, crushed oats linseed meal or a mixture of all three given them. The lambs learn to eat this quickly and it is surprising how rapidly they will gain in weight when fed a little grain, according to L. J. Horlacher, field agent in sheep husbandry from the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Any grain not eaten should be cleaned out of the troughs and fed to the ewes.

Pyramiding Wealth.

A New York dispatch recently stated that families in the United States control more than $100,000,000 each; one hundred families control over $50,000,000 each, and five hundred families control more than $10,000,000 each.

John D. Rockefeller's is now said to be between $3,000,000,000 and $4,000,000,000.

It is the hoarding of such vast fortunes as these into the hands of a few that has made Russia bolshevistic and driven its ruling class to pauper and death.

It is the wedge that has divided the wealthy class from the great mass of the people throughout the countries of Europe, and has created widespread dissatisfaction that has brought on wars and toppled royal thrones.

Only the blind and the foolish will continue to consider this country immune.

It is difficult to induce people to believe that such gigantic fortunes can be accumulated by honest methods in the space of a few years, and dishonesty is the rock upon which governments and individuals sooner or later come to grief.

The pyramiding of wealth is the most dangerous disease with which our country is afflicted today.

It indicates the existence of profiteering combinations which are inimical to the welfare of the republic.

Official complaisance will not ease the tension, and doling out a few thousands will not wash away the sins of its accumulation.

Shaking a red rag in the face of a bull maddens the animal and starts it on a wild rampage of destruction.

If a halt is not called there may come a time when pyramided wealth becomes the red rag of destructive revolution.

When governments become blind the people are forced to do their own seeing, and under stress of great provocation they are too often inclined to "see red."

It is time for all advocates of the square deal to sound a warning call.

Washington should sit up and take heed.

People who love their country do not care to see it come to grief through the cupidity of money maniacs.

As The Editor Sees It.

Looking forward at the beginning of a new year is a common occurrence in all countries, and as we pursue the age old custom we cannot take note of the contrast between conditions in our own country and those beyond the seas.

In our land we have a solid, substantial government, founded upon the guarantee of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Over there kings and emperors have been kicked from their thrones, governments have been driven from power, law and order have been substituted by chaos, and hatred and suspicion lurk in the hearts of the many.

Here we have education, refinement, health, wealth, prosperity and hope for the future. We are at peace with our neighbors and are not looking for or dodging trouble.

But on the other side all is different.

Practically every foreign government is setting on the lid of a volcano. Open discord exists everywhere.

Thousands who have lived in luxury in former years are now penniless, many of them uncertain as to the source from whence the next meal is to come.

Those who have seized the wealth of the countries in the overthrow of government are in the main ignorant as to how to turn it to account, or are wasting the substance in riotous living.

Commerce is stagnant and funds are lacking for its resuscitation.

Millions are on the verge of starvation or are in the actual throes of dissolution.

Children are perishing in the cold through lack of proper clothing.

Destitution and want are everywhere.

Prosperity is nowhere. Truly, it is good to live in America, land of freedom and of plenty.

Prosperity Ahead.

There is much comfort to be had from the statement recently of Judge Elbert H. Gary head of the United States Steel corporation, the greatest business concern the world has ever produced.

Judge Gary says a long period of wonderful prosperity is just ahead of the people of the United States.

When Judge Gary opens his mouth he is in the habit of saying something, and he never says a thing unless he knows what he is talking about.

He has been a wise prophet in the past, because he possesses the ability to read conditions and possibilities as they are.

There is no reason why his prophesy should not be one of wisdom in this case, because there is no reason why we should not prosper and every reason why we should.

Banks and financiers generally state that we have passed through our worst period of depression and are now on the up grade. Only the rankest kind of pessimism can hold us back.

And who wants to be a pessimist when every human instinct spurs us on to optimism?

Let's demonstrate our faith in the return of prosperity by recognizing the fact that it is here and by doing our share toward its maintenance in this community.

Let the watchword be production, wisdom in spending, and employment of systematic course of saving.

A proportionate amount of the prosperity of the country belongs to the people of this community.

Let's get all we can and keep all we get.

Other communities will be doing the same.

Pampered Brains.

We all admire a smart young man, but we do not admire him when he becomes "too smart."

That is the trouble with many young men.

They are endowed by nature with more than the average allotment of brains, but they lack the poise and judgment necessary to keep them under control.

This deficiency, however, is not so much their fault as it is the fault of their parents.

When a baby shows indications of being quick witted too many parents immediately begin to humor it and spoil it.

Instead of maintaining a gentle but firm control over the child they give in to its whims and encourage it in wilfulness.

It grows up with the idea firmly implanted in its mind that it must have its own way in everything.

If it makes a pert remark and is not corrected that remark calls for others in kind, and this leads naturally to the spirit of "smartness" which we so greatly deplore in many young fellows just entering man's estate.

Brains in the cradle requires nursing.

Pampering only converts them into the egotism of maturity.

Undressed Kid.

Lancaster School Notes

Examinations are here and the students have been hard at work the past week reviewing, writing their term papers and finishing their outlines. The teachers have been of great help, assisting each student to the best of their ability. We feel sure that a great deal of work will be accomplished this week.

The Freshman class, under the supervision of Miss Sexton, has been laboring at the almost impossible task of learning Latin. The pupils however, are not any too confident as to the outcome.

Miss Robinson has been giving the Senior class a great deal of memory work from the following writers: Tennyson, Browning, Kipling, MacKaye, Foss, Goldsmith, Shakespeare and also a few selections from Psalms. She intends to give us an oral examination on this work.

The Laboratory has by means of a vest-pocket subscription and the kindness of the Board acquired a balance scale studded with diamonds and enclosed in a platinum vacuum. It is now on exhibition in the Laboratory.

Miss Westover re-visits school.

Miss Westover again visited the school last week, examining the High School students. Only a few were found to be deficient.

Recital.

Mrs. Noland will give her mid-winter recital within a few weeks. The date has not yet been set.

Glee Club Organized.

A High School Girls' Glee Club has been organized by Mrs. Noland. Mrs. Noland denotes much time in selecting and training the girls and they seem to be willing to assist her and realize that it not only helps the school but that they, themselves are benefited.

Social News Items

Miss Mary Duke Dye, of Lexington visited Miss Margaret Peach Sexton this past week-end.

Miss Robinson visited Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hopkins in Frankfort the past week end.

Elsie Fothergill has been absent from school for the past few days.

The Freshman class has lost two of its members, B. M. Stagner and Fleece Bratton.

Mr. Earl Swope has been absent from school this week.

Grins and Groans.

The class was discussing questions for Xmas when Miss Sexton asked if anything was bothering them about which they would like to ask.

"Oh, yes," said Elsie Brown, "the men bother me dreadfully."

Henry, "Wives are sold in the Fiji Islands for $5.00 each."

"Yep," growled Eugene, "more profiteering."

Barber—"Do you want a haircut?"

Roger—"No, I want all of them cut."

Barber—"Any particular way, sir?"

Roger—"Yes, off."

Eugenia had received Paul's flowers with the greatest of admiration. Eugenia—"Oh, they certainly are wonderful. There is still some dew on them."

Paul—"Er-r-r-yes there is still some dew on them but I expect to pay it Saturday night."

Students Prayer.

"Now I lay me down to rest, To learn my studies I've done my best. If I should die before I wake, I'll have no more exams to take."

Miss Robinson asked the English class to bring in an "ad" suitable for the local paper. S. D. Cochran came to class with the following:

WANTED:—White man to milk and run Ford car.

Wrong Sign.

Cecil was hitching his team to a telephone pole.

Chief Bratton—"What do you mean by hitching here?"

Doesn't the sign say, "Fine for hitching here?"

Prof. Boyd—"What happened to Babylon?"

Sam—"It fell."

Prof. Boyd—"What happened to Tyre?"

Sam—"It was punctured."

President Wilson

Refuses Big Offer.

Washington, D. C.—The sum of $150,000 for a single newspaper article has been refused by President Wilson, it was learned recently. The offer was made by a syndicate, the only stipulation being that it be the first article to be written by the President after leaving the White House.

The President was to choose his own subject and the article was to be of any length he desired, or, if he wished, the subject could be covered in a series of several articles. In refusing the President is said to have given as his reason that no article that he or any other living being could write could be worth so much money and that it would be taking advantage of the syndicate to accept it.

Competition is becoming keen among publishers and promoters for the handling of the President's literary efforts after March 4th. The White House mail is crowded daily with offers, schemes and suggestions from people who see a fortune in the market for Mr. Wilson's prospective works and who want to share it with him. But to all these the President has thus far turned a deaf ear. He has not confined the details of his plans for the future even to his nearest friends, beyond stating that he expects to engage in literary work and make a living at it.

LANSLING TO GIVE STORY IN BOOK.

The Peace Conference Work Is Promised Day After Wilson Leaves White House.

BIG CONTROVERSY IS SEEN

Philadelphia.—Day by day while in Paris at the Peace Conference Robert Lansing took notes of what occurred and wrote down facts as he saw and heard them. Mr. Lansing was then Secretary of State as well as a member of the Peace Commission in his seclusion since he left the department he has found time to put his notes in book form and according to the Washington correspondent of the Public Ledger his book will be given to the word March 5th, the day after President Wilson leaves the White House.

The correspondent states that the book is a frank and fearless criticism of President Wilson's methods and actions in Paris at the Peace Conference and goes to show that Col. Edward M. House, the President's personal adviser, was eventually driven to side with Mr. Lansing's views on many vital issues.

Disregard of his own experts on European matters reached its climax the Lansing book will show when Mr. Wilson rejected their advice on the Far East and the Shantung settlement.

Mr. Lansing stood for China's rights and attempts to show in his book that Mr. Wilson sacrificed China at Shantung under pressure from Japan.

The book is likely to be the center of controversy involving many prominent men.

SHUT DOWN ON U. S. ROAD FUND

Kentucky May Not Get Any More Aid From This Congress Or Next.

Washington.—Because of the very large unexpected appropriation that remains to the credit of States for the construction of roads, the House Committee on Roads has decided that all bills pending before it which propose Federal aid for road building in the various States shall be killed.

This means that the State of Kentucky will receive no further appropriations for road building from the present Congress, and probably none during the next Congress which will begin March 4, next.

It is an interesting fact that there is now to the credit of the State of Kentucky the large sum of $4,657,619.56, in the form of accumulated Federal road building appropriations, which could have been drawn from the Federal treasury had the State authorities made requisition for the amount.

This fund is still available, and will remain available to the State for two years at least, and probably longer if Congress at the next session extends the limitation. Altogether, there has been appropriated to the State of Kentucky, under various road building acts, the sum of $5,370,064.79, contingent upon the State or local communities appropriating "dollar for dollar."

In other words, the plan was that every dollar allotted by the Government was to be matched by another dollar raised by the State or local communities. The State, however, an unexpended balance of $4,657,619.56.

Costs of material and labor have been so high in recent years that none of the States have used the full amounts of their Federal allotments. The total appropriations amounted to $266,750,000 for the country at large, of which only $47,300,610.03 has been taken up by the States, leaving an unexpended and available balance of $219,449,389.97. With this amount still on hand, it would be non-sensical, the committee thinks, to make further appropriations now.

GETTING A GOOD START EVERY DAY.

FREE YOUR BLOOD FROM POISON.

Take Pepto-Mangan. The Famous Blood Tonic Prescribed By Physicians for 30 Years.

Sluggish blood clogged with poisons makes you lazy. You feel like getting up in the morning. And when you get up, you miss that feeling of refreshing rest. You feel more tired than when you went to bed. After a good night's sleep you should get up with a spring, feeling alive, renewed, refreshed.

And you would, too, if your complexion would look fresh, your eyes bright and clear, you would feel the warm tingle of good health.

Look to your blood if you have that lazy, heavy feeling in the morning. Begin taking Pepto-Mangan—the ideal tonic. It has blood-building properties that pick you up and give you strength.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. It is prepared in both liquid and tablet form. Both have the same medical properties.

Sold at any drug store. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." Ask for it by the full name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package. (Advertisement.)

Now that we have accustomed ourselves to the Christmas spirit, why not just continue it to the next one. It would save a lot of working up to the point.

Keeping everlastingly at it brings success but a fellow has to be eternally on the job to keep some cuss from reaching in and grabbing it away from him.

Our dear friends of the big city press have been caught napping at last. They have neglected to regale us with the information that the Hardings will reside in the White House after the senator takes the oath of office.

Cracks at Creation.

Yes, 1921 is just a little easier to write than 1920.

Such a relief! 1921 looks just like any other year.

Wealth seldom comes unbidden. It don't get a chance.

The man who knows it all doesn't even know that he does.

Successful men invariably look the part. So does the tramp.

Never mind such a small error. You'll remember to write it 1921 in time.

Success be with you this year. We're already scouting around for ours.

This would be a bleak and dreary world if we had no fools to tell us of their wisdom.

Most great men have little to say. That's one reason why they are considered great.

Yes there are plenty of really good people left in the world. And most of them get left.

Some people wag their tongues so rapidly their brains are unable to keep up. But not you.

The greatest truths often spring from the lips of little children. They do not know any better.

Americans are frantically grasping at the olive branch Mexico is holding out to us. It smells of booze.

Be of good cheer in this new year, brother. There is incalculable riches ahead of us—when we get to heaven.

This is the season when men begin to look sheepish. They just can't resist breaking a few of those resolutions.

A few Christmas remembrances were sent to wounded soldiers in the hospitals, but they were mostly printed ones.

City markets charged customers an average of $2.40 each for Christmas chickens. When the head, feet, bones and entrails were removed a few bites still remained for the Yuletide joy.

The old year slid out and the new one slipped in and we don't see any material change at all, at all. But we're not kicking.

No, we have no intention of conducting a straw vote to determine the smartest man in town. They are all too modest to vote.

When peeved over the high cost of eggs we can console ourselves with the thought that they are probably from storage, anyway.

And still, we can hardly expect all of Europe to flock to this country. Government officials do not willingly quit as long as there's a payroll in sight.

Some fellow over in England has been prognosticating and says the world is going to blow up again. Well, we'll keep our powder wet over here.

Beware how you engage in an argument with your wife. You can't convince her and it's undignified for the head of the house to acknowledge defeat.

The Greeks kicked their king off the throne and then kicked him back on again. But possibly he was willing to accept a voluntary reduction in pay.

We've often wondered why so many men are quick to buy talking machines for their wives, but we cannot believe the only solution that comes to our mind.

When people can buy a whole Christmas turkey without mortgaging their homes it's fairly convincing evidence that this country is in a prosperous condition.

When a fellow suddenly disappears in this country the logical thing to do is to look over the hotel registers in Mexico. It's easy to get in that country, and just as wet.

Daily newspapers have been making much over the fact that Mr. Wilson will escort Mr. Harding from the White House to the capitol on inauguration day. That is comforting news. It assures us that the retiring president is not lacking in courtesy and that the new one will not become lost enroute.

EARLY HATCHED PULLETS

Mean More Winter Eggs.

While next winter may seem to be a long way off and the problem of maintaining a full winter egg basket then may seem distant, Kentucky poultry raisers can go a long way toward assuring themselves that they will have a good supply of high-priced winter eggs by making arrangements now to hatch pullets early, is the statement of poultry specialists at the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Experiments conducted by the State College show that pullets hatched in March usually start laying about October or November, while those which are hatched in late May or June usually do not start laying until after the first of the following March. Some interesting results in this experiment were obtained from two sister pullets.

The one which was hatched in March started laying in October of the same year at the age of seven months while the one which was hatched in May had not started laying January 1st. Those in charge of the experiment stated that she probably would not lay until ten months old or older.

In order to hatch pullets early farmers should begin to make arrangements now for their spring hatchings. Those pullets which are hatched early will start laying at the time of year when eggs are high-priced and when they are most valuable to the farmer while the later hatched pullets will not start laying until after the eggs become cheaper.

Jackless Jills' Comig To America

4,000,000 Women In England Must Migrate For Husbands.

London.—"Jackless Jills" are emigrating in considerable numbers from England in the hope of finding suitable "Jillless Jacks" for husbands in the United States, according to Norah March, Bachelor of Science.

Her comments on England's "marriageable women who may never marry" before the National Birth Rate Commission some time ago were widely discussed in the British press.

Government figures show there is a surplus of 1,000,000 women in England whose only hope of marrying depends on their migrating to some part of the earth where there is a more even distribution of the sexes. According to Miss March, they are doing it. She says she is receiving letters from America that are "significant of the loneliness of some men's lives."

"Women are enterprising today," she added. Many are emigrating who a few years ago would have dared to take the great adventures.

SACRIFICE Mole Used To Test Speed Result Of Rattlesnake Bite.

A mole sacrificed his life at the University of Kentucky Wednesday that science might know how quickly the poisonous bite of a rattlesnake kills. Eighty-one seconds after the mole was made the target of the rattlesnake's fangs it was dead. The rattler failed to devour the mole.

The rattler was the same which attracted considerable attention and publicity when it was brought to the University as a pet by Miss Alberta Wilson. It has been a prominent member of the zoological collection of the University since the opening of the school term.

The scientific experiment was conducted in the rattler's wooden den in the zoological laboratory. The mole was dropped into the presence of the reptile and but a few seconds elapsed before it was attacked.

Deer, Trapped, Shipped To Western Kentucky

(The Times Special Service) Pineville, Ky.—Twelve deer, which have made their home in the State game preserve on Pine Mountain for the last several years, were trapped last Saturday and Sunday and they will be released in a 2,000-acre game refuge under the control of the State Game and Fish Commission. The trapping was done under the direction of Dr. R. S. Tuttle, State Game Commissioner, who was assisted by C. J. Meredith, chief of wardens, and Sill Browning, keeper of the preserve.

The Pine Mountain tract over which the deer have roamed comprises about 200 acres and the deer have not thrived there, as was hoped, and this, in connection with the enormous cost of upkeep, made it necessary to move them. Commissioner Tuttle said. The Western Kentucky tract, which is situated in Trigg and Lyon County, already is stocked with a thriving herd of English fallow deer, wild turkeys and pheasants.

Only twelve of about forty deer which road either in or near the preserve permitted themselves to be trapped. Commissioner Tuttle announced that he would return at an early date to get about half of the thirty that are still here and will leave the other fifteen in the mountains.

Five cars of finger-length fish, or about 20,000, will be placed in the Cumberland River and tributary streams this spring, Mr. Tuttle said.

The fellow who kicks his home town shouldn't complain if he finds that in time the town begins to kick him. Kicking is not a profitable pastime at best, and people would do well to keep this fact in mind when they assume to emphasize their own judgement against that of an entire community.

KENTUCKY FARMERS Save Little Of Farm Manure.

Kentucky produces annually about $75,000,000 worth of manure or about seven-eighths tons for every acre of farm land and yet perhaps not half of this amount is efficiently conserved and used, according to a statement of R. E. Stephenson, of the Soils and Crops Department of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. Too often it is allowed to leach away in the open feed lot or remain in the stable where the most valuable portion of it seeps away through cracks in the wooden floor, carrying with it much fertility needed on the fields of the state.

In the winter when work is slack much of this manure can be conserved by cleaning out all accumulations in the yards and stalls and about old straw stacks and spreading them on fields which are to be plowed in the spring. One precaution should be exercised and that is not to spread it on land that is too rolling or else the manure will wash away. Light applications of about six tons per acre are to be recommended. The manure should be made to cover as many acres as possible.

It should be remembered, however, in using manure that it, like many of the Kentucky soils, is deficient in phosphorus. For this reason better results will be obtained if acid phosphate is added at the rate of 40 pounds per ton as the manure is applied. Some interesting facts connected with the use of acid phosphate and manure are contained in the results of various experiment stations.

Manure used on the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station fields has returned a little more than $4.00 per ton in increased crops. Indiana secured better than $5.00 per ton and Ohio secured in excess of $4.00 per ton.

State Has 646,556 Pupils.

Frankfort, Ky.—There 595 public school districts in Kentucky taught by 13,653 teachers and with a census enrollment of 646,559 pupils, according to a director of the schools of Kentucky just sent to press by the State Department of Education. The school districts are divided into 316 graded school districts, 120 county districts and 59 city districts.

The country graded schools have 1,345 teachers and 64,770 pupils, while the county districts have 9,600 teachers, and 441,440 pupils and the city districts 2,708 teachers and 140,349 pupils.

We fear many of the unemployed are still unemployed simply because they want everything reduced but wages.
